MASKED MARVEL WILL APPEAR HERE AGAIN

Roller skating racing interest in Moshingth is to be revived Monday night when the Masked Marvel makes his second appearance at the Central Coliseum. One week ago the Marvel came here, and while he met with varied success, he comes back completely recovered from the two falls which he received and is again challenging all comers.

which he received and is again chailenging all comers.

While here a week ago, the disguised skater created much interest in the roller sport. Appearing each night in a green suit and black mask, he afforded the spectators a novel sight, strutting around among the patrons of the rink. While no decisive defeats were registered against him, excepting that with Carroll Donnelly on Saturday night, the Marvet feels that his showing here was not sufficient to justify terminating his skating here so soon. Two of the races which he lost were lost as the result of falls. The Marvel is so completely masked that it is often difficult for him to see the turns, thus the cult for him to see the turns, thus the frequent falls.
